

Frequent Traveler Program

Our Frequent Traveler Program (formerly Rewards Program) is designed to support group leaders and encourage them to attend professional conferences by helping defray the cost of attendance.

Groups earn points based on the amount spent with CCIS and then group leaders redeem those points to attend the professional conference of their choice! Larger or more frequent trips will get your group to the conference level quicker. All groups are automatically enrolled - start earning points with your first trip!

CCIS covers conference registration, transportation, and lodging.
Visit ccistravel.com for additional details.

Are there benefits to attending a conference?

- Exposure to new teaching strategies
